

Nokia Lumia 920/925 through Play to is working as from August 1st 2013

The screenshot shows the Windows Phone Store interface for the 'Play To' application. The browser address bar displays the URL: <http://store/app/play-to/2323aea2-6fd8-4593-8d6c-6e8f17eb0821>. The page features a navigation menu with 'Apps+Games' selected. Below the navigation, there are tabs for 'Overview', 'Spotlight', 'Apps', 'Games', and 'Purchase history'. The main content area displays the app's title 'Play To' with a purple square icon containing a white play button and signal waves. To the right of the icon, a description states: 'Play To provides a method to enjoy your personal content (Photos, Videos and Music) on other DLNA capable devices connected to the same Wi-Fi network. Using the application allows you to easily connect to your Wi-Fi network and discover active DLNA capable devices on the network. Enjoy your content on DLNA capable TVs, Blu-ray players, PCs, etc.' Below the description, there are four preview images showing the app's interface on a phone screen, including 'connection', 'WiFi network', 'genres artists a', and 'all personal'. The app has a rating of 340 reviews, indicated by five stars. At the bottom, a sign-in prompt reads: 'Sign in to see if this app is available for your phone.'
